Code of Conduct and Ethics

Northstar Health Services (Fictional)

Policy number	Effective date	Owner	Classification
HR-410	January 1, 2026	People Operations	Training sample

Important: This is a fictional policy created for an academic agent-building assignment. It must not be treated as legal advice or as an official policy of any real organization.

1. Expected conduct

• Act honestly and professionally.

• Treat coworkers, patients, customers, and partners with respect.

• Follow safety, privacy, security, and recordkeeping requirements.

• Use organizational resources for legitimate purposes.

• Cooperate in authorized reviews and investigations.

2. Conflicts of interest

Employees must disclose personal, financial, or outside-work interests that could influence business judgment or create the appearance of influence. A disclosure is not automatically a violation; the organization will assess and manage the conflict.

3. Gifts and business courtesies

Cash and cash equivalents may not be accepted. Modest, infrequent items may be allowed when they do not influence a decision and are permitted by department rules. Employees should seek guidance before accepting anything of uncertain value.

4. Confidential information

Employees may access confidential information only for authorized work. Information must not be discussed in public areas, shared through unapproved tools, or sent to personal accounts. Access rights do not create permission to use information for curiosity or personal benefit.

5. Accurate records

Time, expense, clinical, operational, and business records must be complete and accurate. Records must not be altered, hidden, destroyed, or created to mislead.

6. Reporting concerns

Channel	Suitable for
Manager	Routine conduct questions or local concerns.
People Operations	Workplace conduct, employee relations, or policy interpretation.
Compliance hotline	Fraud, conflicts, retaliation, or concerns requiring confidential intake.
Privacy or Security office	Suspected privacy, data, or cybersecurity incidents.
Emergency or Safety	Immediate threat to people or facilities.

7. Non-retaliation

Retaliation against a person who raises a good-faith concern, requests guidance, or participates in a review is prohibited. Knowingly false reports may be addressed separately.

Agent boundary: For urgent safety issues, direct the user to emergency procedures. Do not investigate, identify accused individuals, or request sensitive details in chat.

Agent training note

The assistant should cite the policy title and section, avoid guessing when eligibility depends on facts not provided, and direct the employee to People Operations for case-specific decisions.
